

Canada Post labour disruption

For people directly affected by a confined feeding operation application

Due to the Canada Post work stoppage, the NRCB strongly encourages anyone who may be directly affected by a confined feeding operation application to submit your written response to the NRCB electronically (email), by personal delivery, or by using a courier service. This will ensure that your response is received prior to the closing date. To arrange a time for personal delivery, please contact the appropriate NRCB office in advance.

For confined feeding operation applicants

Due to the Canada Post work stoppage there may be delays in deeming your application complete, as notification of affected parties via mail is not currently available. Please contact an NRCB approval officer at your nearest NRCB office to discuss alternatives for notification.